

OPEN DOORS TO PIE COUNTER BARRED

Republican Job Hunters Dis- mayed By Order Chief Dispenser

Washington, April 23.—The "open door policy" inaugurated with President Harding is gradually fading away and will soon be a thing of the past. President Harding's door stood ajar but a few days when he ordered it closed three days out of six so that he could "get an opportunity to do some work."

Members of Congress were notified by the secretary of Attorney General Daugherty that hereafter delegations desiring to boost job hunters must cut out the personal interview and write out their desires. Mr. Daugherty is not going to see any more committees or deputations for patronage candidates, the Congressmen were told, but will require recommendations in writing, and if he likes them he will send for the aspirant and take up the matter with him.

Took Too Much Time
It was explained that all of the Attorney General's time was taken up by job hunters and their friends who are trying to shove them up to the pie counter.

This informal announcement was a great blow to hundreds of delegations that are organizing to come on to Washington and bombard the Department of Justice and the White House. The many stories that Mr. Daugherty is to be the chief patronage dispenser for the Harding Administration has deluged him with requests for interviews. The death of Judge Jeter C. Pritchard of the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals brought down upon the Attorney General and Mr. Harding an army of lawyers.

The announcement followed a request for an engagement for an interview with a committee representing the bar of Greensboro, N. C., to present the name of Judge W. P. Bynum for the vacancy.

Will Take a Rest
Mr. Daugherty has experienced a run on his patronage bank and he is tired of it. He will put up the bars to all comers until he gets a rest. Many Republican leaders not in high favor with the Administration fear that the new order will result in permitting "friends" of the Attorney General winning the good jobs and "others" remaining outside.

The Daugherty bars are taken seriously by many G. O. P. workers now in the city awaiting appointments.

VETERAN "WET" JOINS THE DRYS

Charleston, W. Va., April 21.—A scene without parallel in the history of the West Virginia Legislature was enacted in the House yesterday when delegate J. A. Strother, of Welch, for many years leader of the pro-liquor forces, publicly deserted the "wets" and went over to the prohibition side.

Strother, one of the oldest members of the House, secured permission to speak when the Senate prohibition bill was being considered. The delegates settled back comfortably to listen to what they expected would be an attack against further tightening of the prohibition law.

"I have been fighting prohibition many years," declared the aged delegate. "Since 1907 I have carried on the fight in the Senate and the House of Delegates. I have been a devotee of liquor for thirty years. It never brought me good, nor was the fight successful. Liquor has kept me down and prevented me from acquiring the honor that should have been mine. I have succeeded in throwing off the desire for drink and it has made me a better man."

When it dawned upon members of the House that the pro-liquor leader had taken his stand with the prohibition forces, a roar of applause broke out. Although the demonstration violated House rules, Speaker Keasley made no effort to stop it.

MOB OF GERMANS ATTACK AMERICAN

Berlin, April 20.—James E. Tobin and wife, residents of Chicago, were attacked by a crowd of German men, women and children Tuesday as they were on the terrace of Sans Souci Park following the funeral of former Empress Augusta Victoria.

The Americans were rescued by a security policeman and two German civilians, who surrounded them accepting a pelting of sticks, stones and umbrellas, until they were able to escort them to the police station in Potsdam. Here a patrol of extra policemen was summoned and dispersed the crowd.

During the attack the policeman and the two German civilians were unable to quiet the crowd, nor could they entirely shield the Americans. Mr. Tobin was beaten about the head and shoulders and his wife received a bruised nose. After her hat was torn from her head, her hair was pulled and she was struck on her arms and body by umbrellas.

Potsdam police headquarters said:

"The Americans were not to blame, and they desire that there be no further mention of the affair."

"The mob," said Mr. Tobin, today, "was incited by an old woman, who thought we were French. The crowd attacked us and chased us from Sans Souci Park to Potsdam. It is my opinion that we would have been killed except for one policeman and two German civilians. The police, however, did all that was possible. I cannot complain of their conduct and desire to make no trouble to the German government."

Mrs. Tobin said: "We were sitting on the terrace in Sans Souci Park, speaking English. There were three women sitting in the same seat. The one nearest turned to her companions and declared we were French. They began abusing foreigners. I could not understand what they said, but I realized that the women were very angry."

"A crowd gathered. Among it was a number of children. To the children the old woman declared we had spoken in French words derogatory to the former Empress. Neither of us understands French. One of the old woman's companions tried to explain that we had not spoken at all about the dead former Empress."

"The crowd, however, drew nearer shouting that we were French and children began to throw stones. I was so frightened I thought I was choking. The crowd struck my husband with canes and umbrellas. He tried to protect me as we ran, and then two civilians and the policeman came to our aid. There were several hundred persons following us before we reached the police station."

Louisville, Ky., Apr. 16.—Representative Langley, of Kentucky, will introduce a bill soon providing for a third U. S. District court in Kentucky to be known as the Middle district and composed largely from territory taken from the Eastern district, according to Washington advices. The bill, it was said, would provide for sessions of the Eastern court at Pikeville with the Middle court having sessions at Covington, Frankfort, Richmond and Lexington. Too much territory and too many cases for the two present courts was said to be Mr. Langley's reason for desiring a third court.

SOME WORK TO RAISE CHICKENS

Lola Sullivan, of Poplar Grove Farm, Trimble, Tenn., a poultry club girl, now 14 years old, has been making a good record since she was 10 years old. In that time she has contended against many disappointments because of diseases, storms, and "farmints." Notwithstanding all her troubles the little girl owns $50 worth of War Savings Stamps, and has a bank account of nearly $300. She concludes her annual report for 1920 with these lines: All things considered, from beginning to ending.

Hatching and catching and feeding and tending.

Chasing and killing and scalding and pickin'.

There's a great deal of work about raising a chicken.

Watching the hen while she's doing the hatching.

Watching her, too, while she's eating and scratching.

Guarding against hawks and 'possums and rats.

Driving off crows and dogs and cats.

Ready all day to give something a lickin'.

There's a great deal of work about raising a chicken.

THE FORD RUNABOUT

The Ford Runabout needs no advertising. About all we have to do is to tell you we can supply the demand with something like promptness and the selling is over. We have never been able to get enough from the factory to meet the demand and do not suppose we ever will get enough. There are more than four million five hundred thousand Ford cars in operation today, and of this number about three hundred thousand are in foreign countries, the rest right here in America, but we have one hundred and five to one hundred and ten millions of people and it looks from the way demand comes in that we will have to sell that many Runabouts before we can satisfy that demand.

It is one great, little utility. It fits into every man's wants, from the physician to the worker in the factory, from the country blacksmith to the millionaire railroad owner, from the contractor and his employees to the millionaire sporting man's entourage, almost as necessary these days as the handkerchief.

RUN-DOWN, WEAK

Strasburg, Va.—"Some years ago I was in poor health, was in a run-down, weakened condition. Our home doctor could do me no good and I felt discouraged. My husband said to me, 'Why don't you quit doctoring with these doctors and try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription?' I did so, with wonderful results before the first bottle was finished. I used three bottles, also the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and have been healthy ever since. I can highly recommend these medicines to all who need them."—MRS. S. C. FEELY.
